

Wine & Cheese by TCC's November 2017 Beer Club

This month we're bringing you two very different brews perfect for the Fall. Our first selection is the Cranberry Orange Radler from Boulevard Brewing Company based in Kansas City, MO.

Boulevard Brewing has grown from the dream of one man to become a part of the Duvel Moortgat collection of artisanal breweries. Even with being part of one of the most famous and iconic family of beers, Boulevard remains committed to pushing boundaries and helping re-define American beer. Our second selection is the Hazelnut Brown Nectar from Rogue Ales & Spirits in Newport, OR.

The hazelnut is the official nut of Oregon and is used to brew this nutty, brown ale. The hazelnuts used to make the Hazelnut Brown Nectar come from the Kirk Family's orchard that spans 98 acres on the Willamette River right next to Rogue Farms. This brew has been in Rogue lineup since the early 1990's and remains one of their best-selling beers.
